You are hereby notified that the Court has entered the following order:

2022AP694

State of Wisconsin v. Brian J. Brown (L.C. # 2019CF3795)

2022AP695

State of Wisconsin v. Brian J. Brown (L.C. # 2019CF4898)

Before Donald, P.J.

Brian J. Brown, pro se, moves for reconsideration of our order dated June 23, 2022. After reviewing the motion, we conclude that reconsideration is not warranted.

In a separate matter, Brown has submitted a document entitled "reply brief." It appears that Brown intends that this document serve as his appellant's brief and appendix, which are due August 8, 2022. However, the document does not adequately comply with this court's rules with regard to briefing. See WIS. STAT. RULE 809.19 (2019-20). Therefore, we will not accept the document as Brown's appellant's brief and appendix.

Upon the foregoing,

IT IS ORDERED that the motion for reconsideration is denied.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the document entitled "reply brief" is not accepted as Brown's appellant's brief and appendix.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Brown's appellant's brief and appendix shall be filed no later than August 8, 2022.

9. MOTIONS FOR RECONSIDERATION AND PETITIONS FOR REVIEW

Motion for Reconsideration

A losing party to an appeal in the Court of Appeals may file a Motion for Reconsideration.⁶⁶ This motion asks the Court of Appeals to reconsider its decision. A Motion for Reconsideration in the Court of Appeals must be filed within 20 days of the Court's decision. Note: This deadline cannot be extended. The Motion for Reconsideration can be no longer than 5 pages if a monospaced font or handwriting is used or 1,100 words if a proportional font is used.

The motion must state specifically why you believe the Court of Appeals was wrong. You must say what points of law or fact you think were erroneously decided, and you must include supporting argument. A Motion for Reconsideration should not be viewed as a second opportunity to argue the case, but should be used only when the Court of Appeals has made a factual or legal error in its decision. No response to a Motion for Reconsideration is permitted unless ordered by the Court.

Petition for Review in Supreme Court

A party may file a Petition for Review from an adverse decision issued by the Court of Appeals.⁶⁷ A Petition for Review must be filed (i.e., physically received) with the Supreme Court Clerk within 30 days of the Court of Appeals decision, or, if a Motion for Reconsideration has been filed in the Court of Appeals, within 30 days of the Court of Appeals decision on the motion. See 808.10.

The Supreme Court has discretion whether or not to accept the case for review. Review will be granted only when special and important reasons are presented. See 809.62(1) for information regarding the Supreme Court's criteria in considering review.

A $195.00 filing fee is due at the time of the filing of a Petition for Review. This fee can be waived due to indigency. See "Applying for Indigent Status" in Section 4.E. of this Guide.
