You are hereby notified that the Court has entered the following order:

No. 2021AP1615-W James Robert Rossin v. Circuit Court of Grant County
L.C. #2019FO1436

On September 16, 2021, Mr. James Rossin, pro se, filed a petition for supervisory writ in this court. In it, he contends that his medical condition and his disability make it extremely difficult for him to navigate the court process. His requests for relief included: (1) a stay of payment for two prior court judgments; (2) a change of venue for all future court actions; (3) notice to the courts as to why there was a change in venue; and (4) other relief that will be requested in the future.

On September 28, 2021, Mr. Rossin requested additional time to supplement his supervisory writ petition. On September 30, 2021, this court granted his request and advised him that his supplement was due October 29, 2021. On October 26, 2021, Mr. Rossin requested another extension of time to file an addendum to his supervisory writ petition. He also requested a page limit extension and guidance on whether he could or should amend his initial writ petition. On November 2, 2021, this court granted Mr. Rossin's second request for additional time, extending the deadline until January 18, 2022, granted his request for a page limit extension, and allowed him to file an addendum to his writ petition.

No. 2021AP1615-W

James Robert Rossin v. Circuit Court of Grant County

L.C. #2019FO1436

On January 26, 2022, Mr. Rossin filed a letter acknowledging the deadline had past, explained that he had been ill, and requested a one-week extension. On February 8, 2022, this court granted Mr. Rossin's third extension request and extended the deadline for the addendum until February 22, 2022. The order stated that no further extensions would be allowed.

On February 22, 2022, Mr. Rossin filed a letter accusing the court of disregarding his requests and demanding additional time. He attached letters from his physicians confirming his health issues.

On March 22, 2022, Mr. Rossin filed a document captioned "motion to stay," seeking to stay his own writ petition. On March 24, 2022, Mr. Rossin filed a document he described as a "coerced addendum" that reiterated his frustration with the court process.

On May 11, 2022, this court entered an order holding in abeyance the relief requested in the petition for supervisory writ and supplemental documents filed by Mr. Rosin. However, we stated: "An indefinite stay of proceedings is not merited and would be inconsistent with judicial administration." We further ordered that Mr. Rosin had until September 15, 2022 to file an addendum to his petition for supervisory writ that complied with the guidelines set forth in this court's November 2, 2021 order. The May 11, 2022 order further cautioned Mr. Rosin that "[o]n September 16, 2022 this matter will be considered by the court with the documents properly filed with the court as of that date and a decision will issue in due course."

On May 18, 2022, Mr. Rosin filed a document entitled "Coerced Letter # 4" in which he accused this court of interfering with his medical treatment and requested "the justices of the Wisconsin Supreme Court to recuse themselves from this and any future cases."

On July 13, 2022, Mr. Rosin filed a document entitled "Coerced Letter #5" again expressing frustration with the court process and requesting the court "to recuse yourselves for Intentional First Degree Homicide as outlined in the statutes." That document included a "Motion for Writ to Investigate Intentional Attempted Murder" and other alleged crimes by the Wisconsin court system.

Despite Mr. Rosin's voluminous filings, he did not file an addendum to his original supervisory writ petition by September 15, 2022, as outlined in this court's May 11, 2022 order.

Therefore,

IT IS ORDERED that the petition for supervisory writ and all accompanying requests for relief filed by James Rossin are DENIED, ex parte.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that no costs are assessed in this matter.

Clerk of Supreme Court
